Dear Mr. Salley:

Our customer, Mr. Kyle H. Harris of Kyle's Friendly Service, has asked me to advise your office that he feels your request for a Site Sensitivity Evaluation or further clean up to be unnecessary.

The subject tank was removed in 1989 when we were all under the belief that soil samples under 100 ppm TPH were satisfactory and that since this sample was 84 ppm, no additional work should be required.

Mr. Harris wishes to comply with all UST requirements, but he requests that you reconsider your letter dated May 16, 1990. Please advise.

Sincerely yours,

William V. Hill
Vice President
